State to Keep Same Policy on Dependents
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said today Arkansas will continue to operate under its present aid to dependent children program despite a U.S. Supreme Court ruling Monday. The high court ruled Monday that Alabama cannot deny welfare aid to children whose mothers are living with a man who is not their legal father. "Our first reaction to this," Blaylock said, "is that the Alabama plan was ruled illegal and not our plan. We will continue to operate under the present plan until we are told to do otherwise."

Blaylock said he didn't know what the Alabama plan was but he said that Ivan Smith, chief attorney for the Welfare Department, told him Arkansas' plan is a little more acceptable. Blaylock said that 31,097 children are covered under Arkansas' present plan, involving expenditure of $1,692,960 in state money for the fiscal year. The program, however, runs near $8 million by the time federal matching funds are added. Blaylock said he did not think there would be a great increase in welfare cases if Arkansas' plan is ruled unacceptable. "It's not going to make a great deal of difference as some people think," Blaylock said. "It (the ruling) is going to be a hard thing to enforce because welfare workers are not policemen and they can't be watching (the dependent families) all the time."

"I am a little concerned about this thing from a moral standpoint," he said. "These decisions make it easier to help tear down our institutions such as a home based on marriage."

Attention Focused on Gun Death

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Proponents of stricter controls over the nationwide traffic in firearms have focused public attention on the number of deaths — accidental and intentional — caused by gunfire in the United States.

"Guns are involved in more than 6,500 murders" each year in the nation, said President Johnson after appointing a commission on violence following the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Such an annual toll breaks down to 125 homicides a week. Many lives also are lost through suicides in which guns are used and through accidents involving firearms.

To study the extent of deaths by gunshot in the United States, The Associated Press is making a nationwide survey this week of homicides, suicides and accidental deaths involving firearms. The survey started at 12:01 a.m. Monday and will end at midnight Sunday, June 23.

Early in the second day of the count, eight homicides and one suicide had been reported.

Liberal Party Is Gaining in Canada

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Writer
CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — For the first time in years the Liberal party seems to be gaining support in western Canada. That may be good news for Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau in next Tuesday's national election.

Some political experts are predicting that Trudeau's Liberals can double the 10 parliamentary seats they now hold in the prairie provinces and British Columbia. This could make the difference in party efforts to attain a clear majority in the 264-member House of Commons and end the minority rule which has hampered both Conservative and Liberal administrations since 1962.

The outlook is good, observers say, for the Liberals to pick up three of the 13 seats Saskatchewan will have under a redistribution of seats. They had none of 17 Saskatchewan seats in the last Parliament.

Their biggest gains in the west, however, are expected in Alberta where they are running strong in five or six districts. Their only Alberta seat in the last Parliament was held by a man who had been elected in 1965 as a member of the Social Credit party, but switched to the Liberals.

They are not expected to gain any in Manitoba and probably will lose the one they won in 1965. In British Columbia, they are encouraged by the turnouts drawn by Trudeau during his campaign swing and they hope to pick up two or three in addition to holding the seven they won in 1965.

The voting shifts in the west are attributed to several factors: — The redrawing of district lines which gave more weight to urban areas where the Liberals are stronger.

— General prosperity in the west.

— The personal popularity of Trudeau and his stand against giving French-speaking Quebec a special status.

— The collapse of the Social Credit party as a national party. Alberta, birthplace of the party, has fielded Social Credit candidates in only three districts and they are all in trouble. The Social Credit party also is expected to draw a blank in British Columbia. The Conservatives are expected to benefit most from this shift.

— The split between former Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker and the present Conservative leader, Robert Stanfield. Diefenbaker is running for reelection from his home district in Saskatchewan, but has shown no desire to speak for the party elsewhere.

ONE WAY OF TELLING
HONOLULU (AP) — Seeds, planted and grown under police care, produced marijuana plants and led to the arrest of a 31-year-old Honolulu woman on a charge of illegal possession of marijuana. Police said they found the seeds when they arrested the woman several months ago. She denied, police said, that they were marijuana. Police planted the seeds and proved her wrong.

In a State of Confusion

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A 50-foot red carpet was rolled out at the Charleston Municipal Airport to welcome Gov. John Connally of Texas when he arrived for the Southern Governors Conference.

A plane taxied up Sunday and out stepped L.A. Stalling of Tulsa, Okla., pilot of a private company's B26 which had stopped for fuel and was flagged to the wrong parking area.

Stalling told the welcoming committee: "I'm Gov. Stalling from the state of Confusion."

Shelters for Planes to Be Reconstructed

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has ordered urgent reconstruction of shelters for its aircraft in South Vietnam to protect against intensified Viet Cong rocket and mortar attacks.

"Recent attacks on Air Force bases in Vietnam have demonstrated the need for better protection of aircraft" than the current refitted shelters now in use, the Air Force said Monday in response to questions.

At present, the aircraft, most costing at least $1 million each, are parked on bases in South Vietnam in roofless revetments made from earth-filled steel walls five feet wide and 12 feet high.

The first steps taken to carry out the program are now under way in the form of tests to determine the best materials to use in building roofs for the current shelters. When the tests are finished in the near future, construction will start.

Because the enemy hasn't made air raids against the bases these shelters were thought adequate, at least until the Tet offensive early this year showed them vulnerable to rocket and mortar fire.

When the damage from the offensive was tallied, it was found that 192 aircraft were either destroyed or badly damaged from the bombardment.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told a Senate committee earlier this year that more than $132 million in U.S. aircraft had been destroyed or damaged on the ground in Vietnam.

Secretary of the Air Force Harold Brown has urged Congress to appropriate money for an extensive aircraft shelter program at all overseas bases where the United States has positioned much of its tactical air power.

The Pentagon is asking for $17.4 million for the over-all aircraft shelter effort, on top of about $8.5 million voted last year.

San Francisco to Force Gun Registration

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors has passed a gun law requiring the registration of all firearms sold or transferred within San Francisco.

Under the ordinance passed 7-3 Monday, registration will involve a $2 fee with a receipt like an automobile registration slip. Violators would be subject to a fine of up to $500 and up to six months in jail, plus confiscation of weapons.

19 Broadway Shows Closed by Strike

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dolly didn't say hello and Diddler didn't fiddle as a strike by Actors Equity closed 19 Broadway shows.

Curtain time Monday night found only a slow procession of pickets under the darkened marquees at such hits as "Cabaret," "George M!," "Hair," "Hello, Dolly!" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

The strike also closed nine road shows in cities from Wilmington, Del., to San Francisco. But it did not affect off Broadway productions.

The walkout was called by Actors Equity after it failed to reach agreement with Broadway producers on wages and other items to replace the contract that expired two weeks ago.

Producer David Merrick, who announced the death of two of his shows after the strike began, said after a City Hall meeting: "This strike could last for five years. There'll be nothing left of the theater when it's over."

The pickets who strolled the theater-lined streets off Times Square carried signs reading, "Actors on strike—no show until we get a contract." They distributed "fact sheets" to passersby.

At the theater hour the normally thronged sidewalks in the area were largely empty, restaurant maitre d's presided over deserted tables and taxis were available for the asking.

Disappointed playgoers, some of whom had bought their tickets months ago, lined up at box offices to get their money back or to trade their tickets for future performances.

The strike brought the first Broadway blackout since 1960 when Equity struck for nine days over pensions. Actor Ralph Bellamy headed the union during that walkout in which only 19 of 22 productions survived to reopen.

A brief Equity strike in 1964 ended after two matinee performances were canceled.

There was no sign of a quick end to the present dispute. The sides met separately at City Hall Monday evening to "explore the issues" with Deputy Mayor Robert Sweet and Vincent D. McDonnell, chairman of the state mediation board.

Equity seeks to have the $130-a-week minimum increased to $200, a shorter contract, retention of choruses for the full run of shows, premium pay for road shows and control over appearances of alien actors, chiefly British, on the New York stage.

The union has about 15,000 members but only about 800 of them worked in the affected shows. The strike affects thousands of others including members of 10 theatrical unions.

Merrick, speaking for the League of New York Theaters, accused Equity of reneging on a contract agreed upon two weeks ago by the union negotiating committee which included an eight per cent wage hike.

CRAZY MIXED UP MESSES CREATED BY DIVORCE

Dear Helen: My folks are divorced and I live with my father. His fiancé is the ex-wife of the man my mother married.

Helen, this woman needs a psychiatrist. While she was married to my step-father, she treated him like an animal. She even threatened to kill him a few times. I've seen the change in my step-father since he married my mother, so I know this isn't exaggerated.

No one can stand my step-mother-to-be. I haven't said anything to my father because I don't want to hurt him, but if he marries her, he'll be in for awful trouble. What can I do? — DISTRESSED DAUGHTER

Dear Daughter: You can be sure your father has heard these stories: The two former mates would see to THAT, if he doesn't believe them... well, maybe he knows more about human nature than you do.

Unhappily married people bring out the worst in each other. Know all the facts before you condemn — and the best way to learn them is by getting to know — really know — your step-mother-to-be. — H

Dear Helen: Here is the picture:

This fellow is good looking, but didn't date much in high school. Now, in his first year at college, he is going with a 17-year-old girl mostly, it seems like, because her family plans it that way.

The girl's mother invites him over for dinner constantly, then stays up and talks to him, even after the girl goes to bed. She took him shopping so she could buy her daughter a present for HIM to give her!

The girl's grandmother offered to pay all expenses, even for his tux, if he'd take her to the Prom. He refused, but was almost forced to take her on his own money.

The mother is very domineering. It almost appears they have decided to buy a boyfriend for their daughter.

But here's the real wowser: The other night the parents took this boy aside and warned him about getting too serious with their little girl! Migos, they shove her at him and then slap his hand.

What do you think, and how can he ease out? — M.B.

Dear M: My IGAP (I'm Guessing Again Perception) tells me the parent's "warning" was just another gentle shove toward matrimony.

If he's not marriage-minded, he'd better start turning down invitations. Easing out isn't too difficult when a boy really wants to. Are you sure he does? — H

Dear Helen: I am 13. My mother was divorced and is getting married to a man named "David." Since I will not live with them, should I call him "David" or "Dad"? Also, should I buy them a wedding gift, or just a card? — JOAN

Dear Joan: Why not ask your mother and future step-father which name they'd prefer?

A gift? Fine, if you can afford it. But don't ask your real father for the money! — H

Trevino Is in the Golf Spotlight

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There's a pinch of Hagen, Sarazen, Hogan and even Palmer in El Torito, brash Lee Trevino, the new Open golf champion of the United States.

El Torito is Spanish for "Little Bull." That's the nickname tacked on the colorful Mexican-American by Hord Hardin, president of the U.S. Golf Association.

Trevino is hardly out of the blue-jacket, brass-button, striped-tie class. Like Hagen, Sarazen and Hogan, he came from a humble—in his case, even poor—background. This is the reincarnation of a lost age. He is the idol of the peasants.

Let the country club set have their college-educated Nicklaus, Palmers and Fleckmans. The public course hackers, the caddies, the bartenders, the hustlers—they have their man in Trevino.

"Earthy" is the word for El Torito. His skin is the color of polished copper. Thick, raven-black hair frames his pleasant pugilist's face. There's a Marine tattoo on his left shoulder, the name of his first love, "Ann," on his arm, concealed by a swab of adhesive tape.

He was an eighth-grade dropout. He never saw his father. He was reared by his grandfather, a Dallas grave-digger. He shined shoes, caddied, hustled for nickels and dimes, worked for a par-three course and became a $30-a-week assistant in El Paso, Tex.

That was just a year ago. Now he's rich, and growing richer. And golf is abuzz with his quips and stories, half-fact and half-fiction, and in love with his ability to move a golf ball.

"I think I'll buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico," he says.

"Wives? I've had two—I get rid of them when they reach 21." He's kidding. Claudia is No. 2. She's half the team.

"I don't want to be known as the Open champion who took out a wedge and played it safe." "I started by hitting apples with a broomstick."

Not since the days of The Hag has the golf world been titillated by wise-cracks of such arrogance.

Hagen started caddying at nine, played in his first Open at 19. When he saw his name spelled in the paper as "W. Hagen," he said, "They will spell it right the next time." He won the next year—1914.

Like Sarazen, Trevino plays extremely fast. No matter how difficult the shot or heavy the pressure, he walks up and whacks the ball.

He keeps up a running conversation with the fans. "When they don't talk to me, I talk to myself," he says.

But, with all his looseness, El Torito has the toughness of Ben Hogan. A hard, calculating mind shows through his jests. He knows what he wants. He goes after it ruthlessly.

"I intend to be a rich man,"

he says.

He has Arnold Palmer's personal magnetism. The politicians call it "charisma." It shines through a television screen thousands of miles away. El Torito is indeed refreshing. More than that, he can play golf. And the game is better that it has found him.

Orioles Are Battered by Oakland

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE — Suddenly has found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and the Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.

Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, beat the fading Orioles 3-2 Monday night with a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

The loss, fifth in a row for the second-place Orioles, dropped them eight games behind front-running Detroit—closer to the bottom of the American League than the top.

The A's, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston—9½ games off the pace.

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1 on a two-run pinch triple by rookie Bill Voss and Minnesota downed Washington 4-1 behind southpaw Jim Kaat in other AL games. The Tigers and Red Sox were idle.

Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 3-2 and Pittsburgh edged Houston 4-3 in National League play. Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia and the other NL clubs were not scheduled.

Bando drove in Oakland's first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored in the sixth after poking a one-out single. Right-hander John "Blue Moon" Odom protected the 2-0 edge until the eighth, when the Orioles tied it on Don Buford's single. Fred Valentine's triple and Boog Powell's single off reliever Paul Lindblad.

With two out in the ninth, John Donaldson clipped Moe Drabowsky for a single. Rick Monday walked and Bando broke the deadlock with a single to right.

The husky third baseman, whose batting average dipped to .238 after an 0-for-4 collar in the first game of Sunday's twin bill, has since collected four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate for a .250 season mark.

Fregosi led off the 12th with a homer off New York reliever Joe Verbanic, ending the Yankees' three-game winning string and overshadowing a brilliant pitching performance by the losers' Stan Bahnsen.

Bahnsen held the Angels hitless until Bobby Knapp's double and a single by recently acquired Vic Davallio tied the game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith double home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

The setback ran Cleveland's losing streak to seven games, but still left the Indians in third place—8½ games out.

Kaat scattered eight hits and struck out seven as the Twins reeled off their fourth straight victory and extended Washington's winless streak to six games. Frank Quilici banged out a triple and double, scored one run and drove in another before Bob Allison's two-run homer in the eighth capped Minnesota's attack.

Beban Signs Fat Pact With Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gary Beban, UCLA's All-American quarterback and 1967 Heisman Trophy winner, doesn't expect to be an instant success in pro football.

"I think a rookie has to have an apprenticeship, like in any other business," Beban said Monday as he signed a no-cut contract with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League.

"You can't expect to soak up the complexities of pro football in a short time," he added.

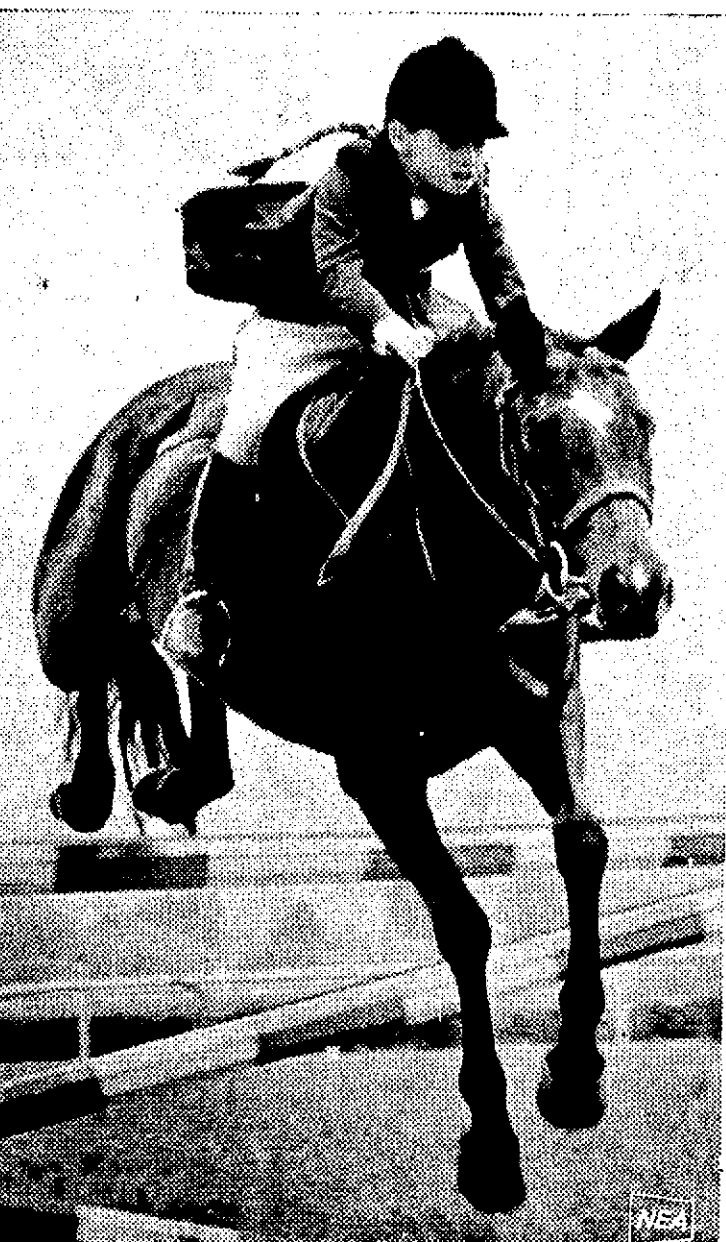

The Redskins acquired the rights to Beban from the Los Angeles Rams last week with the Rams getting the Redskins' No. 1 draft choice next year.

The contrast reportedly is for $200,000 spread over several years.

Grand Slam in 9th Was Not Enough

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—George Pena whacked a grand slam home run in the ninth inning for San Antonio, but the Arkansas Travelers held on for a 5-4 Texas League baseball victory Monday night.

It was Arkansas' third straight victory and kept the Travelers five games in front of the rest of the Eastern Division.

The grand slam came off Santiago Guzman, but he still was credited with the victory, his sixth against four losses. Tom Hilgendorf came on after Pena's blast in relief of Guzman and got the side out.

Billy Wolf continued his hot hitting streak with a solo homer in the seventh. The Travelers got one run in the third with Chico Rivera driving it in with a double.

The big Arkansas inning came in the sixth, though, with Leron Lee scoring on a throwing error, Sonny Ruberto singling home a run and Jerry Davanon stealing home.

Vikings Sign Draft Choice

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings of the NFL announced Monday the signing of bonus draft choice Ron Yary, the 6-foot-5, 265-pound All-American tackle from Southern California at undisclosed terms.

David Fink, 22, of Houston, who has never played golf, said he will join the field of non-Finks at Tanglewood Hills Country Club near his North Texas community.

"I'm hoping to find enough Finks for a foursome," said Fink, a sports writer for the Houston Post.

Pirates Slam Cellar Door on Houston

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
What kind of host is it who locks his guests in the cellar?

The Houston Astros, who obviously overstayed their visit to Pittsburgh, have some idea today after the Pirates slammed the basement door on them.

The Pirates, stuck in the National League cellar themselves last Thursday, completed a five-game sweep of the Astros with a 4-3 victory Monday night that shoved Houston deep into last place.

Pittsburgh, tied for eighth, has won six straight.

The Atlanta Braves also took a step up the stairs, moving into second place with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati in the only other game played.

Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia.

In the American League the Chicago White Sox shaded Cleveland 2-1, Minnesota stumped Washington 4-1, Oakland tumbled Baltimore 3-2 and California tripped the New York Yankees 2-1 in 12 innings.

The Pirates, the biggest disappointment in the league this season, started their series in Forbes Field against Houston only one game ahead of the Astros after climbing out of the cellar with a victory over San Francisco last Thursday. They kept Houston in the dark by outscoring them 34-8 in the five games, extending the Astros' losing string to six.

Willie Stargell supplied a big shove Monday night by slamming his 11th homer in the fifth inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Reliever Roy Face gave the final push, striking out Jimmy Wynn with two on and two out in the ninth.

Others who joined in the attack on the visitors included Matty Alou, who staked Pittsburgh to a 3-0 lead with a bases-clearing double in the first inning, and Al McBean, who held off the Astros until Face arrived.

McBean raised his record to 6-5, beating Dave Giusti, 4-8, who singled in Houston's, tying two runs in the fourth.

The victory, putting Pittsburgh six steps ahead of Houston, left the Pirates still eight games behind league-leading St. Louis, but only 3½ games behind the runner-up Braves.

Atlanta needed an unearned run in the last of the ninth to beat the Reds and moved ahead of San Francisco by one percentage point, each 4½ lengths behind the Cardinals.

Felipe Alou started the winning rally with a two-out double off reliever Ted Abernathy, 1-1. Felix Millan then bounced a grounder to the left of third baseman Tony Perez and it bounded off his glove and rolled behind second base as Alou scampered home.

Hank Aaron of the Braves and Reds' starter Jim Maloney traded earlier home runs and Millan and Pete Rose of Cincinnati singled in the other runs.

More Finks Needed in Tournament

FINK, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the Fink Invitational Golf Tournament looked for more finks today to make a foursome.

The tournament this weekend, launching National Fink Week, registered its first authentic Fink Monday.

David Fink, 22, of Houston, who has never played golf, said he will join the field of non-Finks at Tanglewood Hills Country Club near his North Texas community.

Politicians Differ on Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Dan Sprick of Little Rock said Monday night that the proposed constitutional convention is "so far out in left field it would be a home run in any ball park."

In contrast, former state Sen. Jim Brandon of Little Rock said the proposed convention to revise the state Constitution was "the most exciting idea to come along" in Arkansas government.

Sprick and Brandon debated the issue at a meeting of the Pulaski Business Men's Association. Brandon served as a substitute for Ted Boswell, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, who supports constitutional revision.

Brandon said he wasn't advocating a complete overhaul of the Constitution, merely updating it.

Sprick said one of the major reasons he was opposed to a convention was that some of the study commission's recommendations would create a "government by appointment" and destroy "government by the people."

Escapee Is Captured

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock police said Monday they captured Carlton J. Carney, 18, an escapee from Tucker Prison Farm, late Sunday night.

Tucker authorities said Carney and Billy Ray McEllyea, 20, stole a state car parked on the prison grounds June 8 and drove it to Little Rock where it was abandoned.

Poor March Hasn't Reached Any Goals

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Just a little more than five weeks ago, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy drove a symbolic stake into a grassy mall to mark the beginning of his campaign to "end poverty in this nation of plenty."

That original spot has long since been obscured by sticky mud and the trappings of Resurrection City, just as the original goals have been somewhat obscured by the enormous problems developed in running the campaign.

Today, on the eve of a big march he had planned to use as a demonstration of national support, the Poor People's Campaign seems as far from reaching its ambitious goal as when it started.

Despite a generally sympathetic reception from government agencies, the hundreds of pages of detailed answers they gave to campaign demands added up to few real concessions.

And despite Abernathy's promise to "rain plague after plague on the pharaohs of this nation," campaign leaders have themselves been visited with plague after unexpected plague, leaving them little time to devote to their original objectives.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Laugh if you are wise, Martial said it.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Keystone Lodge No. 43 will hold its regular meeting Tuesday June 18th (tonight) at 7:30. All members are urged to be present. H. L. Washington, W. M.; G. L. Cox, Sr. W.; R. J. Hicks, Secretary, reporting.

THE HALLS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. James Hall had as weekend guests, his sister, Mrs. Mary Alice Johnson of Oakland, California.

The Halls entertained their guests with a fish fry on their lawn Friday night June 14th.

Other out of town guests were: his sisters and brother, Mrs. Louella Crow and T. J. Hall of El Dorado, Arkansas, Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Hall of Homer, Louisiana; local guests were: Rev. and Mrs. J. Edward Hughes, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Norwood and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Littleton Phillips, Mrs. Effie Tatum, Mrs. Maude Coleman, Mrs. Paralee Deloney and son.

Leadership Conference staff members argue over what the campaign has become, most agree it isn't what they started out to make it.

"We've had a little trouble," conceded Hosea Williams, director of nonviolent demonstrations, last week.

Congress was the announced focal point, but almost all of the demonstrations so far have focused on government agencies.

Both Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. before his April 4 assassination, and Abernathy, his successor, promised nonviolent civil disobedience that would jail thousands.

But despite repeated public pronouncements at rallies that the day for mass arrests was close at hand, no more than two dozen participants have been jailed.

Resurrection City was intended to be a kind of "model shantytown," a city of tolerance and love that would serve as home for the 3,000 "basic" Washington officialdom.

But the wettest spring in decades has brought almost daily downpours, driving more than two-thirds of the 3,000 who were once in the nation's capital to seek shelter with friendly families, or else return home.

Perhaps most important, as Abernathy made clear repeatedly early in May, the campaign was to publicize what life in poverty is all about, to expose usually hidden conditions of life in America so that the people would demand that congress act.

King called it a last chance to prove that nonviolence worked, and Abernathy again and again voiced fears that if it failed, violent elements would come forth to further split the races, with drastic consequences for the nation.

Wednesday's Day of Support was originally planned to demonstrate to Congress how Americans would flock to Washington to support the things the campaign stood for.

But now, even that aim is clouded by the resignation of march organizer Bayard Rustin, who left his successor, Sterling Tucker, only 10 days to make nearly all the arrangements that took three months of planning in the 1963 March on Washington.

In many ways, the future of the campaign hinges on what happens Wednesday. Sagging spirits at Resurrection City could be revived by a strong show of support, perhaps even to the point where people and money would be flowing back in.

On the other hand, a turnout considerably under the 40,000 predicted Monday by Tucker might make moot the question of whether the campers stay beyond the June 23 expiration date of their permit.

There simply wouldn't be enough people left in the Lincoln Memorial campground to make keeping it up worthwhile.

The Airlift Request Was Incredulous

By HUBERT J. ERB
Associated Press Writer
BERLIN (AP) — U.S. Air Force Gen. Curtis LeMay was incredulous, Army Gen. Lucius D. Clay was on the telephone asking if airplanes would haul coal, tons of it, and food supplies. Enough to support a city of 2.2 million people.

The Soviet Union had decided it would squeeze the Western allies out of Berlin by starving West Berliners and cutting off their fuel and power.

It was June 24, 1948 and the Berlin blockade was on tight. Now, 20 years later, it is clear the Allied airlift that broke the blockade's back was a Cold War victory, perhaps the greatest.

The blockade attempt was a Soviet miscalculation that cost the Kremlin inestimable prestige.

When the blockade ended May 12, 1949, West Berlin, 110 miles inside the Soviet zone of Germany, was on the way to becoming a going concern, a window to the West behind the Iron Curtain. Morale was never higher. West Germany, where the airlift planes took off, had set out on the road to becoming a firm Western ally.

The grit and courage of the Berliners who stuck it out under tremendous pressure did much to rehabilitate the image of Germans generally, only three short years after World War II. And Stalin's power play rallied the West as perhaps nothing else could have, short of war.

It was 48 hours before LeMay at U.S. Air Force headquarters at Wiesbaden was able to act on

Negroes Seek New Plan to Desegregate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Negro plaintiffs in a desegregation suit against the Marvell School Board have asked U.S. District Court Judge Oren Harris to order a new desegregation plan for Marvell.

The Negroes filed the motion Monday in federal court citing need for compliance with the May 27 U.S. Supreme Court ruling on freedom of choice.

Rockefeller Hunting for Delegates

By HELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his delegates hunting to Capitol Hill today, hoping to drum up support from Republican senators and congressmen in his drive for the presidential nomination.

The principal factors in his maneuver in Washington are:

1. Coat-tails. Rockefeller will try to convince the GOP legislators who are up for re-election that he is more likely to help them win in November than Richard M. Nixon, front-runner for the nomination.

2. Delegates. Some 50 members of the House may be delegates to the nominating convention in Miami Beach in August. Forty-three already have been chosen and six or eight more are expected to be named. In the Senate, 21 are delegates.

3. Favorite sons. As of today, five senators are regarded as favorite sons, Hiram Fong of Hawaii, Frank Carlson of Kansas, Clifford Case of New Jersey, Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and John Tower of Texas. Most of them are regarded as favorable to Nixon.

The governor scheduled meetings with all the House Republicans, 187 in all.

Rockefeller's argument—perhaps his strongest—is that he has proven his ability draw votes from Democrats and independents.

He loses no opportunity to point out to Republicans that they are the minority party, in third place behind these two groups. He says they have 27 per cent of the registered vote, nationally.

Thus, he continues, if the GOP is to elect a president, the party must nominate a man who can attract Democratic and independent voters.

"There is another factor," says Robert R. Douglass, the governor's campaign manager. "The congressmen especially are in close touch with the sentiment of people in their own districts. They are in position to influence delegations from their own states. They will be for the man who can help them win."

Douglass said he thinks endorsements of Rockefeller will be announced after the Washington meetings. "He's not asking for endorsements," Douglass said. "But he won't be unhappy if he gets some."

Asks Stricter Gun Control

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A cap pistol and a hunting knife have been laid at the governor's doorstep as an apparent appeal for stricter gun control.

The cap pistol, unloaded, and the sheathed knife were placed Monday on state capitol steps used regularly by Gov. John Dempsey.

An attached message said: "Please end violence by passing strong gun bill."

82 Republican delegates. McCarthy delegate candidates are running in 37 of the 41 congressional districts. Humphrey slates are entered in 25.

Most delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated say they hope to be elected as supporters of his principles—and uncommitted to any other candidate.

Kennedy had been expected to take the lion's share of a delegate and few observers were predicting today's results.

Rockefeller candidates are opposed by Nixon supporters for only 11 of the 82 GOP delegate seats at stake.

Adam Clayton Powell, denied seating in the U.S. House of Representatives last year, was favored to win a nomination for re-election.

Three Democrats seek the U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Sen. Jacob K. Javits. They are Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick; Eugene H. Nickerson, a Kennedy man, and former New York Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

While New Yorkers voted in the primary, Rockefeller was on Capitol Hill seeking delegates and hoping to convince Republicans up for re-election that he would help them more as the party's presidential candidate than would Nixon.

Some 50 GOP representatives and 21 senators will be delegates, and five senators head their state delegations as favorite-son candidates.

Nixon, in urging Johnson to sign the anticrime bill, said in a statement it is clear Congress is ready to debate a more stringent gun control law, but in the meantime the President should sign the bill which Nixon said "has 90 per cent" of the gun control features Johnson asked.

Third party presidential candidate George Wallace, campaigning in Richmond, Va., urged a new slogan—"Southern Power"—saying the South has started a movement "which is going to change the trends in this country."

In other political developments:

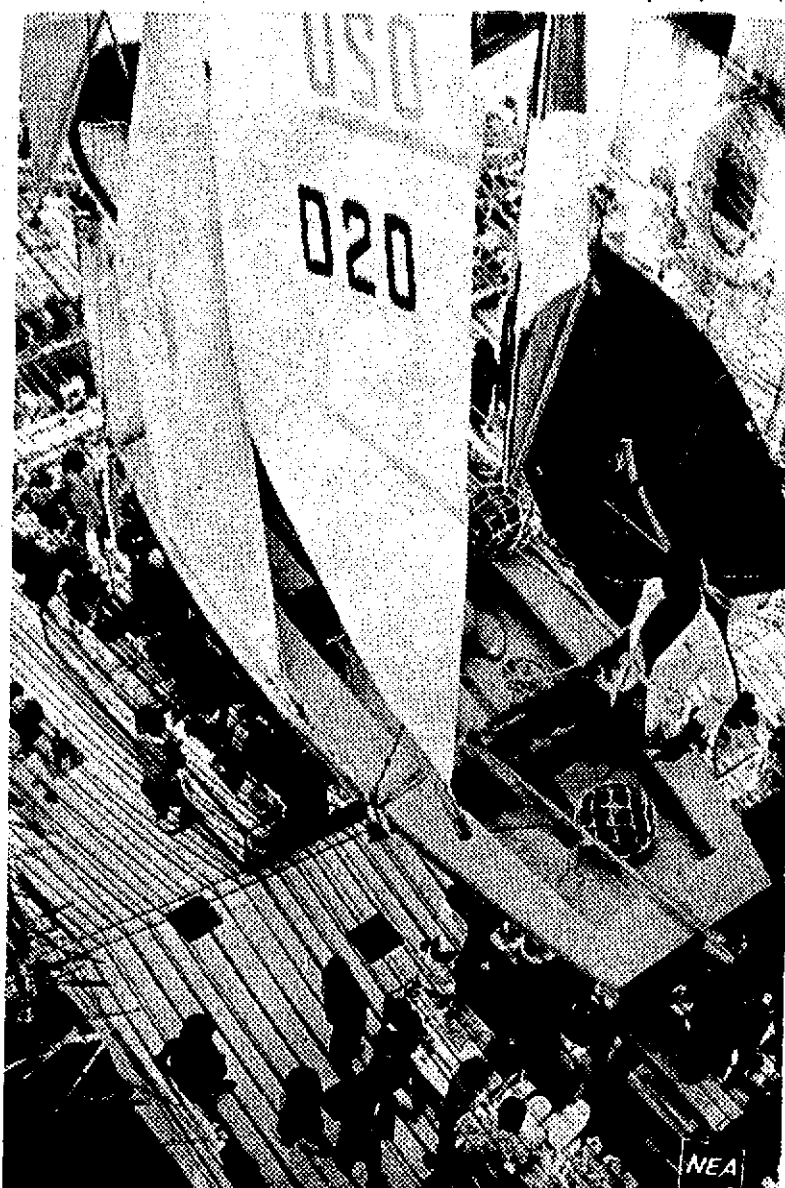

—Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, and Republican state Sen. Horace Hildreth Jr. won nomination in a Maine primary Monday to oppose each other for Congress. Actor Gary Merrill and former state Rep. David L. Graham were last in the two three-way races.

—Michigan Gov. George Romney announced Nixon will meet with the state's convention delegation June 26.

—Gov. John A. Volpe indicated he believes Massachusetts GOP delegates will split after their commitment to vote for Rockefeller on the first national convention ballot.

Eisenhower's Heart Attack a Major One

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 77, fighting anew against a major heart attack—and apparently holding his own so far—today passed at least the halfway mark in the three-to-four days doctors consider the most critical.

The five-star general was termed "another major heart attack"—the latest of five cardiac assaults, both major and minor, he has suffered since September 1955.

And it occurred while he was walking about in his ward, apparently on the road to complete recovery from a "mild" heart attack he suffered less than two months ago while vacationing in California.

The latest word on his condition came around 10 a.m. EDT Monday when his doctors said in answer to a series of written questions submitted by The Associated Press that:

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable."

In a formal medical bulletin issued just prior to the release of answers to the AP's queries, the doctors said Eisenhower had remained "comfortable during the past 24 hours" and that "there has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared."

Odds 400-1 But They Were Overcome

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Writer
LA CANADA, Calif. (AP) —

The odds have been figured at 400 billion to 1 that any one American knew both Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Sirhan Sirhan, the obscure Arab immigrant accused of killing the senator.

But a young California social worker from La Canada is in that rare position. He is John McGrain, 22, who was a classmate of Sirhan in John Muir High School in Pasadena in 1962 and 1963.

McGrain met Kennedy, who was then attorney general, on a visit to Washington as president of the California Association of Student Councils.

He also met President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

"Robert Kennedy impressed me in a way that I'll never forget, as I'll never forget the way in which Sirhan impressed me," McGrain said.

Kennedy, he explained, epitomized youth and strength. Sirhan, on the other hand, "seemed fragile."

As for Kennedy, said McGrain, "you could feel that he had things to do, and that he knew what these things were, and that he would do them. You could absolutely feel that he had the capacity to do good for our society."

McGrain, a graduate student in political theory at the University of Southern California, said he felt disturbed in high school by the class distinctions between students from well-to-do areas such as La Canada and those like Sirhan from more humble surroundings.

As president of the junior class council, McGrain said he initiated the contact with Sirhan.

"He was not the sort who would approach you," McGrain said. "He wouldn't begin a conversation, for example, with a stranger. But once contact was made he was very warm."

"He was a conscientious worker on these school projects. You could count on him when you gave him a job to do. I must say I liked him."

Sirhan entered into various council activities, such as dance arrangements, or placing signs in hallways, or helping in fund-raising activities such as candy sales.

The probability of McGrain's having personal contact with both Kennedy and Sirhan was figured at 400 billion to 1 by a mathematics professor at the University of Southern California.

Meanwhile in Amman, Jordan, the national bar association said four Jordanian lawyers would come to the United States shortly to take part in preparing Sirhan's defense.

Workers in France Are Back on Job

By LOUIS NEVIN

PARIS (AP) — Thousands more French strikers headed back to work today, led by the 65,000 workers at Renault auto plants who voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement worked out by their union leaders.

The return to the Renault strikers plus 10,000 at the Savem truck plant in Lyon and about 30,000 shipyard workers at St. Nazaire, Bordeaux and La Seyne left less than 250,000 of the 10-million strikers still out, according to union estimates.

The major holdouts were the personnel of the government radio and television network. Those strikers on Monday rejected new proposals by Information Minister Yves Guena.

Hypnosis to Stop Smoking Is Harmful

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Using hypnosis to stop smoking may hurt more people than it helps, a psychiatrist warned today.

Dr. Sheldon B. Cohen of Atlanta told the annual convention of the American Medical Association, "longtime smokers often run into psychiatric trouble when they stop smoking."

He cited the case of a man who gave up smoking under hypnosis and a few weeks later got drunk at a party and beat up his wife and his best friend.

"I had to suggest that he resume smoking while undergoing intensive psychiatric treatment," Cohen said.

The psychiatrist said a study of available scientific literature and 10 cases in his own practice had persuaded him "no one has yet demonstrated that hypnosis is generally indicated to help people stop smoking."

Of the 10 cases, Cohen said, four stopped smoking for as long as a few weeks but all eventually resumed smoking.

"There may be some cases in which hypnosis is helpful," he said, "but nobody knows enough about smoking yet to say that this or any other technique is a sure way to help the longtime smoker."

"Unless you have something better to give people as a tension-relieving device, perhaps it is better to leave them alone," Cohen said all 10 of his cases had serious illnesses, aggravated by smoking. But taking cigarettes from them he said, appeared to present hazards greater than the obvious risk in continuation of smoking.

In another talk a doctor reported a new hormonal contraceptive given by injection once every three months.

The substance, commercially available but approved only for therapy, is medroxy-progestone acetate-MDA, said Dr. Edward Tyler of the Family Planning Center of Los Angeles.

Tyler said there were no pregnancies among 216 women to whom he gave the drug over the past three years.

He said monthly injection of other hormonal drugs—progestogen and estrogen—was effective with 514 women.

Many women were willing to continue with the drugs despite such side effects as nervousness, bleeding irregularity and nausea, he said.

Tyler said neither method is likely to become readily available before considerable testing by the Food and Drug Administration.

What Goes Into a Ton of Newsprint?

Your editor abdicated this space yesterday in favor of Other Editors' reprints, the reason being that The Star staff were busy hosting a fellow publishing team from East Arkansas.

Our visitors were Bonner McCollum, publisher of the daily Times-Herald of Forrest City, and Mrs. McCollum. Mr. McCollum had visited us before, but this was his wife's first time in Hope.

The McCollums are planning to convert the Times-Herald from old letterpress to the new offset system of printing, which would make the Forrest City conversion the seventh among Arkansas' 30 dailies. Of the state's 128 weekly papers 33 have converted.

Monday's visit was to inspect our Fairchild News King Model 475 rotary offset press, the press being the key to every offset conversion. Fairchild has seven press installations in Arkansas, dailies and weeklies, of which The Star's five-unit machine is the largest.

Mr. McCollum remarked on the difference between our layout now and when he first saw it in the weeks immediately following our conversion Dec. 29, 1965. Then we had two plants in the same building, and the shop was a bewildering jam of old and new machines. Of course we sold off the old equipment and now have the shop rearranged, redecorated, and a floor with a cork inlay covering.

But the McCollums are going to use one better. They will put up a new building to house their offset equipment. We can't match that in the foreseeable future, as our present building was new in 1955.

Here's a fascinating item from the Crown Zellerbach News, trade organ of the big paper-making company, as relayed by the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association—a list of all the materials that go into the making of a single ton of newsprint (The Star uses 95 tons a year).

Here is the consist of a single ton of the coarse white stuff on which newspapers are printed:
1.1 cords of wood
1,531 KW of electrical energy
46 imperial gallons of fuel oil
2 units of hog fuel
13 pounds of saltcake
90 pounds of ilmerock
60,200 gallons of fresh water.
Paper—a prodigious consumer of wood and water—both of which Southwest Arkansas has in long supply, arguing well for the eventual expansion of this growth industry in our corner of the U.S.A.

Dope Charge Filed at Arkadelphia

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP)—A grand jury investigation into the "possible criminal acts" in the Arkadelphia area has been requested by Prosecutor Bill Denman Jr. of the 8th Judicial Circuit.

Denman said Monday he had filed a charge of possession of marijuana seed against Bob Squires, 22, of Arkadelphia, a former Ouachita Baptist University student, and a charge of burglary and grand larceny against John Hastings of New Jersey, another former college student.

Denman said Dr. Ralph Phelps, president of Ouachita Baptist University, had requested an investigation of persistent rumors of criminal acts allegedly involving students.

Denman said the investigation to date shows the "likelihood of additional criminal activity."

Humphrey's War Doubts Challenged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—wrapping up his New York primary campaign—says Democratic presidential rival Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should make public any private doubts on the Vietnam war.

"I think everyone has private doubts," McCarthy said at a Harlem rally Monday. "There comes a time when the private doubts of a public man must become public doubts."

He referred to a prediction by former White House press secretary Bill Moyers that Humphrey soon will begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies including escalation of the war.

But a Humphrey spokesman said in Washington "the vice president does not follow the practice of thinking one thing in private and saying another thing in public."

"He intends to discuss all the issues that are vital to this country just as he has been discussing such issues throughout his public life," the spokesman said.

On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon called on President Johnson to stop "dragging his feet" and sign the anticrime bill. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his hunt for delegates to Capitol Hill in Washington.

McCarthy was the only major presidential candidate to campaign on behalf of delegate states in final days before the New York primary today which will name 123 Democratic and

U.S. Violence Still Bringing Criticism From the World Press

LONDON (AP) — Violence in the United States continues to preoccupy the world press, and one commentator expresses doubt that America has learned anything "from the series of shattering assassinations."

Desmond Rushe, of Dublin's Irish Independent, wrote after covering the funeral of Robert F. Kennedy: "A baffling incongruity in the United States—one and one leaves a sour, bitter and angry feeling against America and Americans—is the communal and political attitude toward firearms control."

"One wonders," said Rushe, "if America has learned anything at all from the series of shattering assassinations which has overtaken it. Or, indeed, if Americans are not more cynically and selfishly preoccupied with guarding their vested interests than in curing the racial and social ills which afflict their land."

Old Law Used to Bar Discrimination in Housing Transactions

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has turned a long-obsolete civil rights law into a far-reaching ban on racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Beyond that, the 7-2 decision Monday hinted that the "13th Amendment banning slavery gave Congress the power to strike at private acts of discrimination generally, if it wants to use the power."

The ruling, one of several stunning deals out at term's end, said housing discrimination—private or officially sanctioned—is a "relic of slavery" that was outlawed in 1866.

The Reconstruction law, an outgrowth of the 13th Amendment, "bars all racial discrimination, private as well as public, in the sale or rental of property," Justice Potter Stewart declared.

His majority opinion, opposed only by two justices, goes far beyond the 1968 civil rights law signed by President Johnson in April. This year's law exempted many small residential units and would not have a major impact until next year.

The court's ruling spoke of no exceptions. And while the 1866 law has no specific federal enforcement machinery, Stewart's opinion means Negroes can go to court now to assert their rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Abe Fortas and Thurgood Marshall comprised the majority with Stewart.

Justices John M. Harlan and Byron R. White dissented, saying the finding that the old law applies to purely private actions "is almost surely wrong and at the least is open to serious doubt."

Because the court prefers to announce its holdings in bunches instead of spacing them out, the housing decision overshadowed other big rulings.

Among them were:
1. Sanction for police to keep jailing chronic drunks found on the city streets.

2. A ban on denying welfare to needy children solely because of their mother's sex conduct.

3. Freedom for community antenna television operators to pick up copyrighted movies and cartoons from TV stations without having to pay for them.

The 5-4 decision on drunks was surprising, particularly since the court six years ago said California could not make it a crime for a person to be addicted to narcotics.

Justice Marshall, in the court's judgment, stressed that facilities for treating impoverished alcoholics "are woefully lacking throughout the country."

"It would be tragic," he said, "to return large numbers of helpless, sometimes dangerous and frequently unsanitary inebriates to the streets of our cities without even the opportunity to sober up adequately which a brief jail term provides."

Stewart, who in several instances this term showed new liberal leanings, dissented with Fortas, Douglas and Brennan. The welfare decision, a unanimous ruling given by Warren, struck down Alabama's version of the "man-in-the-house" rule and could knock out similar rules in 17 other states.

Alabama, said Warren, violated the 1935 Social Security law and federal policy by barring assistance to needy children solely because their mothers had extramarital sex relations.

Committee to Take Up Gun Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee approved today the bill urged by President Johnson to ban mail order sales of shotguns and rifles.

The bill was approved with only one change, an amendment tightening proposed restrictions on the sale of destructive devices like anti-tank guns, bazookas and mortars.

The subcommittee voted 9-0 to report the bill to the full Judiciary Committee, after rejecting 6-3 a substitute bill that was called up by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Nebr.

Chairman Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and other subcommittee members predicted that the full committee will approve the administration bill Wednesday without waiting for hearings to be completed on more far-reaching registration and licensing bills.

President Johnson has until Wednesday midnight to sign, veto or ignore the omnibus crime control bill and its gun-control section now on his desk.

If he takes no action on the measure, rushed through Senate and House within two days of the June 5 pistol attack on Kennedy, it will become law.

Johnson has criticized the gun control provision—which bans only the mail order sale of pistols—as too weak and has urged quick action on the bill before Dodd's subcommittee.

Sponsored by 28 senators and introduced last week, it would ban the sale of shoulder weapons through the mail and to juveniles and nonresidents of a state.

Dodd also has offered a bill providing compulsory federal registration of all firearms and prohibiting sale of ammunition to anyone unable to furnish proof that his firearm is registered.

The even stricter measure has been offered by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md.

Ray Return Ruling Is Set June 27

By LAWRENCE MALKIN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — A British magistrate announced today that he would decide on June 27 whether James Earl Ray should be returned to the United States for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

The 40-year-old escaped convict was brought before Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton in Bow Street Magistrate's Court for the first of what could be many court sessions on the U.S. government's application to extradite him.

Milton, after spending the weekend studying the inch-thick file from Washington, said he needed more time to thresh out the complexities of the extradition laws and instructed that Ray be returned to Wandsworth Prison.

Ray was arrested at London airport June 8 and charged then with entering the country on a forged Canadian passport and carrying an unlicensed loaded gun.

After a preliminary hearing before Milton June 10 on the passport and gun charges, he has been held under round-the-clock guard at Wandsworth Prison while Scotland Yard tried to reconstruct his movements and contacts during the three weeks he is believed to have spent in London before his arrest.

The U.S. Embassy forwarded the request for his extradition to the British government last Wednesday.

Under the 1931 extradition treaty between Britain and the United States, British courts can grant extradition only if U.S. authorities present evidence sufficient to send Ray to trial under British law.

Extradition of Ray was also asked because he is wanted by Missouri to complete a prison term for armed robbery. While extradition on this charge would be almost automatic, the U.S.-British treaty specifies that a suspect can only be tried on the charges for which he has been specifically extradited. Therefore unless he is extradited for the murder of the Negro civil rights leader, he cannot be prosecuted on that charge in the United States.

The secretary of state's office said Burdette was the first to file from Clarendon County.

Reports on enemy aerial activity along the demilitarized zone last weekend differed, with Vietnamese reports saying anywhere from 2 to 12 helicopters were shot down.

The U.S. Command said Monday that radar showed unidentified aircraft at the eastern end of the DMZ.

"The low-flying aircraft were suspected to be enemy helicopters and were taken under fire by naval vessels and U.S. aircraft in the area," a command statement said.

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta, said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

121 Enemy Troops Just Give Up

SAIGON (AP) — The largest mass surrender of the war took place today when 121 enemy soldiers gave themselves up to South Vietnamese marines on the outskirts of Saigon.

Pleading for the marines not to shoot, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars emerged from bunkers in Gia Dinh suburb and turned over 60 rifles and six larger weapons.

There were these other developments in the war:

—The U.S. Command said it had received reports of more North Vietnamese helicopters operating around the demilitarized zone Monday night. No additional information was given, but other sources said as many as 10 to 20 enemy choppers had been spotted on radar.

—The U.S. Command still refused to confirm or deny reports that somewhere between two and 12 of the Russian-designed enemy helicopters had been downed by artillery and U.S. warplanes in and near the DMZ Saturday and Sunday nights.

—A Communist MIG21 shot down a U.S. Navy Phantom jet on Sunday over the North Vietnamese panhandle, the U.S. Command said. The two fliers are missing.

—The American Command changed its earlier statement that a U.S. Navy Swift boat was sunk by enemy artillery Sunday night off the coast near the DMZ. A spokesman said today the 50-foot boat "may have been sunk by unidentified aircraft," either American or North Vietnamese, and American officers are investigating.

—The Australian Navy and the U.S. Command announced that Sparrow missile from a U.S. warplane apparently hit the Australian destroyer Hobart early Monday, killing two crewmen and injuring seven. Like the Swift boat that was sunk, the Hobart also was cruising off the DMZ at a time when enemy helicopter activity was reported.

The surrender in Gia Dinh came in response to loudspeaker broadcasts by South Vietnamese marines who had surrounded the holdouts near a pagoda three miles north of South Vietnam's presidential palace.

The soldiers came out in groups over a period of about an hour. Most were North Vietnamese, most carried weapons and most were wounded.

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."
